

Thank you to Robert Blunier (co-manager of the Phoenix Towers in Singer Island FL) for arranging for the DYM series to be available in the office for the reading pleasure of Phoenix residents, and also thanks to Sandy Frauenheim (newsletter editor) for getting the word out!

PHOENIX TOWERS NEWSLETTER

March/April 2013

* * * * *

AROUND THE PHOENIX:

We Have An Author in Residence: Well, actually we have Payne Marshall (B02D) in residence. His daughter, Tessa, and son-in-law, Keith Donnelly, often visit Payne at the Phoenix Towers. It is Keith who is the author of the Donald Youngblood Mystery Series: titles:

Three Deuces Down; Three Days Dead; Three Devils Dancing; Three Deadly Drops

Thanks to a gift from Keith, copies will be available about April 15th from the office. You can also find copies at Amazon.com or Barnes & Noble. Book number five is coming soon.

Born and raised in Johnson City, Tennessee, Keith always wanted to write. After college he tried writing science fiction, but that went unfinished. He did finish a golf novel, The Last Shot, but it was never published. Having a full time job and a family, however, Donnelly said he didn't have time to chase down an agent so he did what most of us do: he went to work. Donnelly spent eighteen years in the Northeast as a book manufacturing sales rep. In 1992, ready for a change, he moved back to Tennessee to open a new sales office for the Maple-Vail Book Manufacturing Group. The urge to write was always lurking in the back of his mind, so he gave it one last try. Three Deuces Down was released in 2008.

Congratulations Keith!

To visit the web site from which this material was obtained visit:

Donaldyoungbloodmysteries.com

* * * * *